Guelph CBT is a private, fee for service psychological clinic offering psychological assessment and one-to-one cognitive behaviour therapy (CBT). Services for psychological services are not funded through OHIP, though many patients have coverage through their workplace or extended health benefits. Your patient will be assigned the earliest available clinician with expertise in the problem area, unless the patient has a preference about which clinician they would like to see.

Guelph CBT also offers psychiatric services with Dr. Samantha Kelleher. Psychiatric services (consultation and treatment) are OHIP funded.
